PLANNERS REPORT

Alaska Coastal Management Program: Still waiting on final approval of the amended plan. I attended training on Introduction to ArcGIS I. It was a two day session that covered the fundamentals of the program and included exercises to become familiar with many functions. It was very useful to begin to manipulate the program and to assess our future needs.

Code Enforcement Activity:

The AC store has been found expanding the footprint of their store without a site plan permit. We now are waiting for Fire Marshal approval of the redesigned structure.

253 Akakeek was issued stop work order for fence (over 6ft. tall) in right-of-way. We are working with owner in remedies.

81 7th Avenue was issued a stop work order for a site plan violation relating to an order that an abandoned trailer on the site was required to go to the City Landfill. The owner has since removed the trailer to the landfill.

116 Alex Hately has been noticed that it is illegal to construct in the right-of-way. After contact with the owner, he claimed to gain authorization from the Planning Commission for such activity. The accuracy of this statement is in question as he claimed to have obtained the authorization recently from John, Emily and the Planning Commission. He was unaware that John and Emily have not been with the City for approximately 18 months.

Trooper Housing Project is still required to obtain flood proofing certified by an engineer for the accessory storage building on the site. Initial plans have been approved by an engineer and I am awaiting confirmation that the improvements have been installed with an engineer approval. A letter of compliance has been issues to RCD regarding the large gravel pile on the site, which was in violation of zoning requirements. The gravel has since been moved off site.

After an interruption of water and sewer service for 545, 547 & 549 Akula Court, AVCP met with representatives of Planning, Public Works, and ONC. AVCP has requested that the City attend a meeting November 8th to review engineering plans for their proposed solution.

AVCP is working with the Planning Department regarding the encroachments of their properties on J. B. Crow Road and will have a proposed solution to the Planning Commission. I have had initial conversations with representatives of YKHC regarding their support of the proposed solution. It is a requirement to have their input regarding the solution as they are actively developing a site that will be directly affected.

Cars found in the right-of-way have been minimized. We will have new challenges as the Planning Department has been informed that the Code Enforcement Officer is not eligible to run plates through the Police Department. This will require the request of a Police Officer. We will be working with the Police Department to seek a viable solution.

Code Enforcement Plans: We are attempting to work with Public Works to accomplish the cleanup goals according to the City Councils' past nuisance declarations. We have also begun documentation on a few properties that have been in a state of code violation for the last few years. We will continue to document new sites and work on enforcement at a pace that will not overwhelm the Public Works Department.

Comprehensive Plan: It has come to my attention that the time to review the comprehensive plan is coming upon us. My first concern in this area is the transportation element. Since it was suggested by a DOT representative that the element may not meet the current STIP requirements, it is important that we ensure it does prior to the STIP submission next year. I am investigating means of funding and have identified a few possibilities. Similarly, we need to revisit the Comprehensive Plan also. I have done some initial consultation with ASCG in Anchorage about developing a proposal and identifying funding sources.

Hazard Mitigation: I have received an initial draft of a hazard mitigation plan. The plan will be out for review and revision in the next couple of months or so.

Indian Reservation Roads: ONC has met with the City Manager and the Planning Department about designating non-State maintained roads as Indian Reservation Roads. This would enable additional funds to be available for maintenance of the designated roadways. We have issued an initial MOA of a willingness to assist. We are excited to form a partnership in regards to the designation and future activities as it would be a great benefit to both ONC and the City of Bethel.

Major Site Plans: Tim Mearig will be presenting the 65% Kilbuck Elementary Replacement School Plan to the Planning Commission.

Nuisance: The property at 621 Setter Drive has been partially cleaned up and we are trying to work with the owner to help in the disposal of the accumulated human waste found on the site. The owner has commenced with assistance regarding some of the most unpleasant aspects of final clean up. We are very concerned that the violator is continuing in his past nuisance practices and has still to obtain sewer service. We are working with the City Attorney to initiate more forceful compliance measures. We have begun to clean-up the property at 226 Akiak Drive and have removed the debris from the right-of-way and towed cars from the site. Plans are being made to remove structures from the property.

Trailers: The Planning Department is in the process of reviewing Alaskan community codes regarding trailers. There is not an existing reference to attach regulations regarding trailers in the existing Bethel Municipal Code (BMC). It seems that communities have a wide variety of ways to deal with trailers. It was my thought to suggest a change to the BMC that would require all trailers that become a part of a new site plan to have certification that they meet the Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards authorized under the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974. This legislation has been a requirement of manufactured homes since the 70's. It ensures that construction guidelines meet safety guidelines that have reduce fatalities due to fire more than 50% since inception. Another concern in regards to trailers is whether or not to introduce specific guidelines regarding the creation of trailer parks. Currently little code exists regarding this subject.

Training: Jeff, Sharon Sigmon, and I have completed a seminar on Plat, Subdivision, and Land Use Law. Several Alaska City Attorneys and land use experts presented in regards to land use in Alaska. This was very beneficial to the Planning Office as it confirmed many of our thoughts and actions.

Vacancy: The Planning Commission now has one vacancy due to the resignation of Commissioner Bush.

Water Source Protection: Water Source Protection Specialist, Carrie Godden has tentatively planned to work with the Planning Commission in the scheduled December meeting.

COMMISSIONERS COMMENTS Joy Shantz states "I think that we need to work on something that's been brought up many times and I guess with a lack of a solution, and not being able to remedy it, it has been dropped many times. I think with the new ordinance that allows off-road vehicles onto the roads, we need to up the efforts to establish designated trails within City limits. We need to work with BNC, ONC, and have public meetings for easement areas and to really get this established. Off road trails for snow machines and 4-wheelers."

Item C – Zoning Map reproduction, interpretation, and amendments.

Discussion Item

City Planner Richard Abboud informs the Planning Commission of the need for a new Official Zoning Map. He states that the Planning Commission will need to be involved in the interpretation of the existing map and states that it will be an ongoing project. Code Enforcement Officer Jeff Lee states that Zoning is one of the largest responsibilities of the Commission and is one of the best tools to utilize in code enforcement activities.
